

FINANCIAL PROVISION FOR CHILDREN

Until recently the Child Support Agency or CSA dealt with many claims for financial support for children. They could be contacted on line at www.gov.uk/child-support-agency.

However, over the past year the government has been gradually rolling out the new Child Maintenance Service which will eventually replace the CSA. The Child Maintenance Service is now open for all new enquiries.

Further information will follow shortly, but meanwhile any parents requiring information can access the Child Maintenance and Child Support Agency website at www.gov.uk/child-maintenance/overview.
